

CLAYENS confirms its participation in the Paris Air Show 2025 and announces the launch of its CLAYENS Aerospace brand and a strategic acquisition in the USA.

Genas, 04/22/2025 - CLAYENS, a major player in the aerospace and defense sector, is proud to announce its participation in the Salon International de l'Aéronautique et de l'Espace du Bourget 2025, to be held from June 16 to 19, 2025 for professionals at the Parc des Expositions de Paris Le Bourget. This major event will be an opportunity for CLAYENS to showcase its latest innovations and solutions, while highlighting its recent acquisitions, its new CLAYENS Aerospace brand and its strategic vision for the future.

Launch of CLAYENS Aerospace: at the heart of aeronautical innovation

As part of its development and positioning as a strategic market player, CLAYENS announces the launch of its new commercial brand, CLAYENS Aerospace. This initiative marks a turning point in our company's identification in this market.

CLAYENS Aerospace reflects our desire to be recognized as a key player in the sector, by offering innovative solutions that meet the growing needs of the industry and our customers.

A strategic vision reinforced by our acquisitions

CLAYENS' strategy has always been to support its customers as closely as possible to their needs, while guaranteeing optimum responsiveness and a detailed understanding of local requirements. Our strategic locations in Europe, North Africa, the United States and Mexico enable us to respond effectively to the specific demands of the aerospace market.

In January 2025, CLAYENS strengthened its expertise and expanded its international network with the acquisition of Alltech Integrated Manufacturing, a US company specialized in the manufacture of precision injection-molded components for the aerospace industry. This acquisition, combined with the integration of Saimap Viennot in 2024, marks a turning point in our strategy of growth and innovation.

Discover our expertise at the Paris Air Show

The Paris Air Show is a key event for CLAYENS and its subsidiary Saimap Viennot, which will also be present on a dedicated stand. Together, we will be showcasing our synergies and collective expertise to meet the challenges of the aeronautical sector.

Eric PISANI, Group CEO, declares:

"We are delighted to be presenting our expertise to the aerospace industry at the Paris Air Show. The launch of CLAYENS Aerospace and our recent acquisitions, such as Alltech and Saimap Viennot, strengthen our position and enable us to extend our expertise with a resolutely innovation-oriented approach."

About CLAYENS

Based in Genas (Rhône), the CLAYENS group is a leader in polymer and composite processing. CLAYENS works with customers all over the world to provide them with the customized products and services they need for a wide range of industries: aeronautics, automotive, healthcare, electrical infrastructure, industry & equipment. The CLAYENS group employs +5000 people in +30 plants in Europe, North Africa, the United States and Mexico, with sales of around €650 million.

About Saimap Viennot

Saimap Viennot, a company recently acquired by CLAYENS, is a key player in the manufacturing of technical parts and assemblies made from high-performance polymer materials through machining, injection, and compression. The company primarily serves the aerospace, defense, and energy industries.

Practical information

- Dates: June 16-19, 2025
- Location: Paris Le Bourget Exhibition Center, Paris-le Bourget Airport – 93350 Le Bourget, France
- Stand CLAYENS : HALL 2B - Stand G107
- Stand Saimap Viennot : HALL 4 - Stand D80